

Marian Coffin, Pioneer Landscape Architect (1876-1957) said that Money, Manure & Maintenance were the three ingredients for successful gardens. Coffin, Massachusetts Institute of Technology Class of 1904, was one of the first women Fellows of the American Society of Landscape Architects. Her most well known designs are Winterthur for Henry Francis duPont, The University of Delaware, and the Kings Garden at Fort Ticonderoga. Photographs and her drawn landscape plans illustrate the text. Twenty-first century gardeners have much to learn from Coffin's knowledge of plants and design.
