

From Albert Einstein's 'Theory of Relativity,' Dr. Wade began a journey to seek meaningful answers for life's mysteries. His study of the Bible became a passion and he began to see correlations in the physics between the two. Dr. Wade became an author, a teacher, a minister, and eventually put his best efforts into this manual for life; Spiritual/Biblical Psychology. This work contains studies of the spiritual, mental and physical interrelated components of man being. Intelligence, the nervous system, the brain and the electromagnetic field interconnect and keep the human body in harmony, when all goes well. What happens when it does not? See Physics and Einstein intertwine into a logical, pragmatic view of the human experience. Sometime back in the 40's, Dr. Jake Wade was born into a musical family and raised in Missouri on a dairy farm. He learned to get up early, finish his chores and beat his siblings to the breakfast table. Originally a military family, his father's work with a pipeline Company took the family through many moves, eventually landing them in Houston, Texas. Having evolved to being a tall, skinny kid in high school, Dr. Wade took the only reasonable path available and became an excellent basketball player. After running an engineering business, Dr. Wade put his vast education in engineering, metallurgy, physics, chemical engineering, welding and psychology to excellent use; building pipelines and fathering five children. The events led to becoming a country dweller on a small ranch near Austin, TX, where he was blessed with raising two more girls with his beloved wife Linda Simmerman Wade who went on to heaven in 2003. Special thanks are given to Cathryn Craig Wade, PhD, MBA. for her endless editing, advice and artistic views of life and the world which contributed greatly to this endeavor.
